No matter the material, Farley doors use nothing but premium materials for strength, durability, efficiency and safety. Our finely crafted steel and fiberglass doors come in a range of styles, embossed or not embossed, to complement your home.

Steel Doors

Our polyurethane-filled, heat-galvanized steel door panel is covered with a primer coat for extra protection and exceptional durability. Steel doors are known to be affordable, very easy to maintain, secure and energy efficient.

Fiberglass Doors

Our rustproof fiberglass door panel is not only scratch and dent resistant; it offers exceptional strength and durability too! Fiberglass is known to require little maintenance over the years, to be strong, durable, rot and moisture free as well as energy efficient. Slightly more expensive than steel doors, our fiberglass door panel manufacturing process delivers a superior finish and remarkable quality of embossing.
